Since the issuance of this Court's Order and Plan of Apportionment on Remand from the United States Supreme Court, on June 2, 1972, certain clerical mistakes and omissions in Appendix A have come to this Court's attention. which is not named herein but (1) which lies within the boundaries of a representative district, or (2) which lies between the boundaries of two or more representative districts, for the purposes of this division of the state into legislative districts the territory referred to in clause (1) is a part of the representative district within which it lies, but the territory referred to in clause (2) is a part of the contiguous representative district having the smallest population.

If there is any territory within the boundaries of this state which lies within the boundaries of two or more representative districts, such territory is for the purposes of this division of the state into legislative districts a part of the representative district having the smallest population.

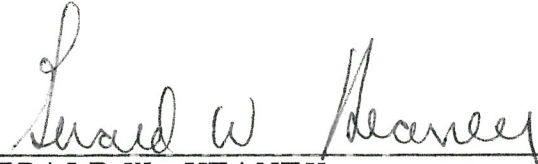

Any territory which becomes a part of a representative district pursuant to clauses (1) and (2) is a part of the legislative district of which such representative district is a part.

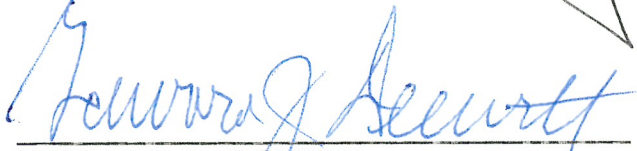

In addition to these changes in Appendix A, the official and controlling description of the legislative districts under this Court's Order and Plan of Apportionment, changes and alterations are necessary to conform Appendices B, C, D and E to Appendix A. The Secretary of State has agreed to assume this responsibility and to file new appendices with this Court. When the conformed appendices are so filed, they shall replace Appendices B, C, D and E, filed June 2 and June 6, 1972.
